1. India and Hong Kong sign Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement (DTAA)

On March 19, 2018 Government of India has signed an Agreement for Avoidance of Double Taxation and the Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with respect to taxes on income with the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region.

As per a press release by CBDT, the tax treaty will stimulate flow of investment, technology and personnel from India to Hong Kong and vice versa, prevent double taxation and provide for exchange of information between the two countries. It may also improve transparency in tax matters and help curb tax evasion and tax avoidance. The Agreement is on similar lines as entered into by India with other countries.

2. CBDT invites feedback and suggestions on new Direct Tax Law (DTL)

In this endeavor of drafting a new DTL, the CBDT has invited feedback and suggestions on the difficulties faced by taxpayers under five categories viz. filing of return of income, grant of tax credits, processing/scrutiny of return, litigation and recovery of disputed tax demand and penalty and prosecution, from stakeholders and the general public on a new direct tax law (DTL).

The feedback and suggestions are required to be submitted latest by 2 April 2018, on departmental website www.incometaxindia.gov.in. The format can be downloaded from the website and suggestions/feedback may be sent through e-mail at rewriting-itact@gov

3. Supreme Court upholds disallowance of expenditure in relation to exempt income from “strategic investment” and “stock in trade”

The Finance Act, 2001 inserted Section 14A (Section), with retrospective effect from 1 April 1962. The Section provides that for the purposes of computing total income, no deduction shall be allowed in respect of expenditure incurred by a taxpayer, in relation to the exempt income. The Finance Act, 2001 further amended the Section, with effect from April 1, 2007, to provide that the amount of disallowance shall be computed as per Rule 8D in the Income Tax Rules, 1961 inserted with effect from March 24, 2008.

Hon’ble Supreme Court (SC) in the case of Maxopp Investment Ltd vs. CIT [(2018) 91 taxmann.com 154 (SC)] has upheld the disallowance of expenditure incurred “in relation to” exempt income by way of dividend on shares held as “trading assets” and “stock-in-trade” under Section 14A of the Indian Tax Laws.

The issue before the SC was whether disallowance under the Section is warranted in a case where exempt dividend income is earned from shares but where the predominant intent of investing in shares is not to earn exempt dividend income, but to either retain controlling interest over the investee company or to earn profit from trading in shares (dominant purpose test).

The SC held that even if the dominant purpose of investing in shares is not to earn exempt dividend income, but to have controlling interest or to earn profit from trading in shares, it will not preclude the applicability of the Section.

The Section statutorily incorporates the principle of apportionment of expenses between exempt income and taxable income. If expenditure is incurred on earning dividend income, pro rata expenditure attributable to the dividend income has to be disallowed under the Section.

However, the computation of disallowance will depend upon the facts of each case and the Tax Authority needs to record satisfaction that, having regard to the facts of the case, suo moto disallowance made by the Taxpayer is not correct.

While recording such satisfaction, the Tax Authority has to examine the nature of loan taken by the Taxpayer for purchasing/making investment in the shares.
